roofing needs...

SPECIALISTS IN SINGLE-PLY ROOFING

Aim Developments Ltd has been providing high quality flat roofing services for over 30 years. Based in Perth, we operate throughout Scotland, including the Highlands and Islands, and are specialists in single-ply roofing.

...Aim has got it covered

Established in 1982 by Andrew Morrison, our Chairman, the firm has built its reputation as a first-class roofing contractor on the outstanding quality of our workmanship, our service to our clients and the quality of products that we provide and install.

We are proud of our hard-earned reputation and our focus on the people and products that continue to deliver to our high standards.

We were one of the first to make use of single-ply membrane technology in Scotland, recognising its potential and working with it as the market developed. Now a mature technology, single-ply membranes are seen as the premier covering for flat roofs. With our extensive experience in this area, we offer an excellent range of single-ply roofing membrane products for clients and specialise in supplying and installing this effective roofing choice.

Our work history covers a huge and varied range of roofing projects. So whether you are looking for flat roofing for a small domestic extension or a large commercial project, we can help.
